In Spite Of Serving Area Loss

POSTAL RECEIPTS INCREASE IN 1955

Campbell postal receipts for 1955 amounted to $75,584.85 which sum slightly above total in 1954, according to Ira Grim, postmaster who said today that had it not been for loss of the Cambrian Park serving area in the early part of the year, the returns would have been considerably more. The eastside area from New Jersey to Camden and Union avenues was taken from the Campbell department when the Cambrian Park postoffice was established as a branch of the Los Gatos department, and later taken by San Jose, Grim explained.

Substantial developments on the west side has enabled Campbell to hold its own, and probably will lead to greater increase for 1956. The postal returns for 1953 here were $70,000 and in 1952 they were $62,000, Grim said. In six years the Campbell postoffice changed from third class with $12,000 annual receipts to first class with $75,000.

Harry Rediker presented the club with a collection of special stamps, issued by some twenty countries, with the Rotary emblem printed on them, commemorating the 50th anniversary of Rotary clubs, in 1955.

Al Conley of Campbell Realty Company, was presented with literature and acceptance into Campbell Rotary Club.

Firm To Start Building 67 New Homes In March

With 61 homes of the first group either under construction or completed, the Trojan Construction Company has completed preliminary work for the start of the second unit consisting of 67 homes, it was reported this week.

The subdivision located on the west side of San Tomas Aquina Road will have a total of 229 homes in the 58 acres that have been subdivided for homes.

It is expected that actual construction on the second unit of 67 homes will get under way by March 1. Future plans also call for a neighborhood shopping center to be built in the area.

The construction firm estimates that its crew builds a home each working day and that it will take approximately 13 weeks to complete the second group of homes.

The homes will all have three bedrooms and two baths, the company officials say, and are expected to sell for $13,950. The firm expects to add another model in the second group of homes in addition to those that were built in the first unit.

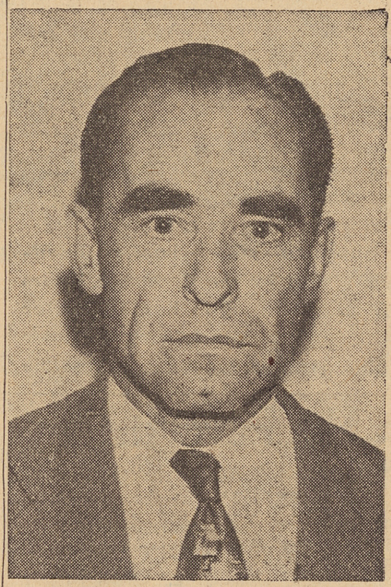
HOW'S THAT, AGAIN?

The 456,800 people of Santa Clara County will have to pay $211,800,000 as their share of the sixty five billion dollar budget for 1957 that was just proposed before congress, or $1,850 per family, according to California Taxpayers' Association.

George Vierhus, New Publisher Campbell Press

Lester Lafferty, editor and publisher of The Campbell Press since September, 1953, today announced that he had sold his interest in the newspaper to George Vierhus who assumes the duties of editor and publisher of the Press with this issue.



GEORGE VIERHUS

Vierhus, an experienced newspaperman, for the past two and one-half years has been managing editor of the Temple City Times in the Los Angeles area. Prior to that he was editor and publisher of the Rosemead Review in Los Angeles County and of the Camarillo News in Ventura County.

Vierhus grew up in the San Joaquin Valley and lists Chowchilla as his home town. He was graduated from Fresno State College and served in the Army during World War II for almost six years leaving the service with the rank of major.

Resuming newspaper work in 1946 he became co-publisher, editor and manager of the Camarillo News until 1953. While at Camarillo he was a member of the board of directors of the California Newspaper Publishers Association for two terms and served as president of the Ventura County unit of the Association.

No change in policy or personnel at the Campbell Press is contemplated under the new editor and publisher. Clifford T. Cassiday continues as co-publisher and the head of the mechanical operation of the newspaper.

Lafferty, with other business interests, has no definite plans for the future except that he will continue to make Campbell his home. He will stay on in an advisory capacity at the Press for some time during the "breaking in" period, serving also as vice-president of the Campbell Publishing Co., Inc. publishers of the Campbell Press. Vierhus being the newly elected president and Clifford Cassiday, secretary-treasurer.

CASTING BEGINS FOR SENIOR PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Casting for "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", Campbell High School's 1956 senior play, began this week by Ken Wallace, director. The play will be presented March 22-23.

There will be two chief female parts, that of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, one chief male part, that of Mr. Otis Skinner and 14 minor roles evenly divided between sexes.

Sets are now being designed for the production's two big scenes, the interior of a cabin aboard an ocean liner, and the interior of a Paris hotel room.

The student actors and actresses will wear the costumes of the "twenties" and the costume committee is already sewing the long-waisted and shapeless dresses that were the vogue in 1923. Authentic props for the play were also being assembled this week, although five weeks remain before the opening.

ELECTION CARRIES

14% Vote on $1,800,000 School Loan

With but a 14 per cent turn out, voters of the Campbell Union Elementary School District last Thursday authorized trustees to accept $1,800,000 in state aid loans to provide for construction of the new Sherman Oaks School on Fruitdale Avenue and for additional classrooms at other schools. Receipt of the loan from the state will not change the tax rate here, according to William C. Henley, district superintendent.

The vote was 1,191 for the measure and 220 against it or a total of 1411 votes cast. There were 10,023 eligible to vote.

In the meantime the State Allocation Board approved four loans totalling $533,924 for additions to three elementary schools in the district. Largest loan was $401,660 for the Sherman Oaks School to include eight classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and a multipurpose room.

Hamilton School is to have three portable classrooms by virtue of a $33,767 loan plus $26,000 in bond money already available. The State will however contribute $40,689 for the entire cost of constructing two portable classrooms at the Dover School, and $57,808 for three portable classrooms at Cypress School.

Organists Hear Harp Recital

"Angelus" and "Esquisse" by Renie and "Aria" by Kirchoff-Grandjany were solo selections presented on the harp by Miss Carol Cox at the meeting of the San Jose chapter of the American Guild of Organists January 7 in the home of Mrs. Ezelle Cox, 33 Pala Avenue, San Jose, conducted by Dean Clifford E. Hansen.

Hansen at the organ, presented two new unpublished organ compositions,

Plans were made by the group for the guild-sponsored organ concerts, and dinner on April 9, at which church organists will entertain the ministers of their respective churches.

County Planners Approve

NEW HIGH SCHOOL SITE SET FOR HACIENDA AVE.

The County Planning Commission yesterday approved a 38 acre site on Hacienda Avenue, just East of Quito Road and south of McCoy avenue for a High School in the Campbell Union High School District according to Laurance Hill, district superintendent who said the district already has tentative approval of the State School House Planning Board for the purchase. The site will increase to 45 acres when Hacienda Avenue is extended, and the school will face Hacienda avenue.

The school district has an option to purchase the 38 acres at $3250 per acre. When the site is given official approval by the State School House Planning Board, the district will make the puchase. It is expected, Hill said, that the school will be ready about September, 1960, and will be the second branch high school in the district.

WAREHOUSES MAY FACE HAMILTON SHOP CENTER

Action is expected to be taken this evening on approving the official plan lines map of Hamilton Avenue at a continued hearing before the Planning Commission as a representative of the city engin--eer's office will be present to explain the alignment from Nottingham Way to Winchester Road to a 120 feet width and a projection of Hamilton avenue west from Winchester Road to Llewellyn Avenue. At the last meeting of the planners some property owners' expressed concern that unequal land areas were being taken to remove a jog in the center line.

The second and final hearing is also scheduled tonight on the house and building numbering plan that would number to 1000 for each mile from Winchester Road east and west, and from Campbell avenue, north and south.

Plans for architectural approval of two warehouses in a M-1-S zone will be submitted by Ivan Kucich, on the property of Joseph Gianini on San Jose-Los Gatos Road, north of Campbell avenue.

Also seeking approval will be tentative subdivision map of Shadowbrook and of Unit 4 of Kuehnis Estates.

Demonstration of Safety Crossing At Cypress School

"No Living Without Safety" will be the topic of a talk by Lt. Leon Green of the Santa Clara County Sheriff's office at the Cypress School P. T. A. meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, when Mrs. Virginia Gunia will preside.

In keeping with the subject of juvenile protection, Jack Wenzel, sixth grade teacher, will lead the Cypress Safety Patrol in a safety demonstration on crossings for children.

During the meeting preceding the program, Mrs. Gunia will make anannouncement about the Mothers' March of Dimes scheduled for January 31.

Sixth grade mothers will serve refreshments following the program.

Cities In County MUST Cooperate, Speaker Claims

Unless the cities in the Santa Clara Valley cooperate with one another and the county, the valley faces a catastrophe Howard Campen, former county counsel told the Los Gatos-Saratoga American Association of University Women on Tuesday.

Campen reviewed the annexation problem at an open meeting held in Saratoga. He emphasized that he was not against annexations but that expansions without proper control and rendering adequate services to areas annexed could lead to a catastrophe.

In addition to the annexation problem Campen cited other factors that made cooperation among the cities a necessity. Water, flood control, roads and air pollution, he pointed out, were problems for all groups. He suggested that to adequately plan for the future a possible federated local government within Santa Clara County might be the solution to many of the problems.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Rev. Edwin E. Jacques of Lowell, Massachusetts, who recently returned from five years in Italy under the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society, will speak on his experiences while in Italy, at the First Baptist Church in Quito Park, 12195 Saratoga Avenue, Sunday evening at 7:30.

Rev. Jacques maintained a Bible book store in Naples, Italy. He also worked in the Christian servicemen's center there and worked with many American seamen who came to port in that city.

Made up of students from schools throughout Santa Clara County, the San Jose Junior Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season at the Morris Daily Auditorium in San Jose at 8 p. m. on January 27.

Ages of the musicians range from 11 to 17 years in this season's orchestra. Campbell High School is represented on the orchestra roster by Patti Bowman, Carol Gresham, Ronnie De Ruise and Bruce Stamps, violin; Stephen Janzen, oboe; and Judy Prows, violin.

Membership in the orchestra is determined by means of auditions at the beginning of each season, and these students, along with the rest of the orchestra of some seventy members, have been attending weekly rehearsals every Saturday morning since the fall school term opened.

The Junior Symphony Orchestra is under the direction of Allyn Ferguson Jr.; the first concert will include numbers featuring oboe and trumpet soloists, and the brass section, as well as a woodwind quintet which has been rehearsed by Dave Wight, assistant conductor and business manager of the Junior Orchestra.

The complete program for the January 27 concert is:

Benventuo Cellini—Berloiz

Oboe Concerto (K314)—Mozart (Patrick McFarland, soloist)

Trumpet Concerto — Haydn (Dave Cox, soloist)

Polka and Fugue from "Shvanda"—Weinberger

Canzona No. 2 for Brass Choir—Gabrielli

Bourree—B. M. Colomer (Woodwind Quintet)

This program will be repeated in Palo Alto on February 19th, when the San Jose Junior Symphony presents the opening concert for the Palo Alto Youth Concert Series.

Under the sponsorship of the San Jose Symphony Association and with the cooperation of the music department of city and county schools, the Junior Symphony Orchestra is now in its third season. Following the January 27 concert, rehearsals will immediately commence for the next concert, which is scheduled for May 25.

SITE FOR CITY HALL APPROVED

An offer was made Tuesday night by City of Campbell to take over the Congregational Church Church property on North Central avenue on a lease purchase plan for $35,000 in payments of one third each, the final one to be in 1958. Councilman James Arends, chairman of the city hall committee, made the offer to the Church board of trustees who have tentatively accepted it subject to a few details yet to be worked out. Their recommendation will be made to the Church congregation this Sunday for a vote of confidence in the board's action.

Arends was authorized by the Council to appear before the Church board with this proposal. He said yesterday it is the same offer as before the recent election, except that payment will be over the three year period. No provision is made at this time for alterations of the building as a city hall, but that when title is in order, some such plans will likely be made.

In the election, a substantial majority of voters approved the purchase of the property and its remodelling to a city hall. The vote was short of the required two-thirds majority. City proposes now to use surplus funds for the purchase of the property. Alterations as previously proposed would provide for housing various city offices and a 26x32.3 Council room, estimate cost being $20,000. Joseph Gomes, chairman of the Citizen's Committee estimated cost for the church building being remodelled for a city hall at $4.50 per square foot, which is less than one third of prevailing cost for new construction.

Children Donate To 'Dimes' Drive

A few weeks ago, a group of young girls, ranging in ages from 9 to 13, donated the proceeds of a neighborhood play which they had written and directed, to the March of Dimes.

"Lost in the Forest", which was shown on the patio of the Robert Guio home at 601 Robin Lane, was enacted by Barbara and Ann Frick, Lane Hecker, and Carole Ann Guio, and netted a profit of $10.

COUNCIL OKAYS PARKING CHANGE FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The city council approved the recommendation of Mayor Richard Morton, acting as traffic engineer Monday night, that parking in front of the high school property on both Campbell avenue and Winchester Road be changed from diagonal to parallel. The situation has changed since the first parking plan was established in that now there is plenty of off-street parking for cars of both students and faculty members on the High School grounds, and it is now deemed dangerous for cars to back into the traffic flow on either street, Morton explained.

Council also approved recommendation from the planning commission for the set back of 132 feet of curb line on Hamilton avenue so as to be 50 feet south of the center line of right-of-way or 10 feet north of future property line of the Hamilton Square Shopping Center at the southeast corner Hamilton avenue and the San Jose-Los Gatos Road. The area between the proposed curb and edge of existing pavement is to be surfaced, the improvement to extend east from the Shop Center to Kuehnis Drive. Mark Thomas, city engineer estimated the relocating of the curb between the Shop Center and Kuehnis Drive will be $500 and city authorized this when work starts on the center.

Mark Thomas was named to represent Campbell at the meeting February 7 with U. S. Army engineers on Guadalupe River control funds and he is to see if something can also be done about San Tomas Creek flood control money.

Mayor Morton is to name a committee at the next meeting to serve on the Citizen's Advisory Committee to the National Guard.

Approval of the council of rezoning the northeast corner of San Tomas Aquina and Campbell avenues for C-1 so Texaco Oil company can erect a service station on the E. C. Bucknall property there, prompted Mayor Morton to comment that Campbell has more gas stations per capita than any where else in the United States.

LeRoy Black, street superintendent reported shoulders damaged by flood on Cypress avenue are repaired and that the ultimate job will be better than previously. Council approved the work project indicating however it is not to be construed as acceptance of the street for future maintenance, but merely for flood damage repairs.

Thomas reported on flood control plans for an area near Winchester and Latimer as proposed by Joseph Dahl, former councilman, but action was deferred until the joint meeting Jan. 31 at 8 p. m. of the Campbell and San Jose city councils in the San Jose Planning Commission office. Administration officials are also attending the meeting. Discussion of mutual annexation problems will be on the agenda.

Joseph Bonacina, city attorney said the uniform building code ordinance is ready, so a hearing was set on it for February 13 prior to introduction for adoption.

A resolution was adopted enrolling the 13 city employees in the California Physicians Service plan.

Police Chief Robert Locke was authorized by the Council to set up a Citizens Youth Guidance Committee to work with juveniles who are in trouble for the first time and not deemed serious enough to go before the juvenile court, according to a plan proposed Monday by Mrs. W. R. Morgan, wife of Dr. W. R. Morgan, Campbell dentist. This would be one of a group of such committees set up in cities of Santa Clara County, the first one already functioning at Santa Clara. She suggested that the committee include a retired teacher, a Protestant minister, a Catholic priest, a psychologist, retired probation officer and an attorney.

March of Dimes Funds Coming in

"Filled-in and mailed-in March of Dimes Eenvelopes mean hope and a chance for normal living to thousands of polio patients, 176 of them right here in Santa Clara County," Robert J. Simmons, chairman of Santa Clara County March of Dimes drive, declared today in an urgent mid-campaign appeal.

"Return March of Dimes envelopes buried in desk drawers won't help anybody," said Simmons, who pointed out that while close of the 130,000 MOD envelopes mailed to county residents, only about 4,000 have been returned at this time of which 29 were from Campbell.

Simmons emphasized that until present and future polio patients all have received the best care available and until scientific research into the prevention of polio has conquered the disease, March of Dimes dollars are desperately needed.

Of the $13,306.59 reported at last Friday's initial campaign luncheon, $86.10 was from Campbell, representing 5 percent of its $5,000 quota. Overall goal in Santa Clara County is $150,000.

Amounts collected and reported by individual communities of the county follow: Agnew, $6, Alviso, $13., Campbell, $86.10, Cupertino, $491.85, Gilroy, $118.50, Los Altos, $1,022.78, Milpitas, $7.25, Moffett Field, $68.70, Morgan Hill, $115,60, Mountain View, $417.17, Palo Alto, $1,909., San Jose, $7,067.75, Santa Clara, $780.13, Saratoga, $216.50, Sunnyvale, $486.66 and Stanford, $12.00.

EDITORIAL

A NEW PUBLISHER . . . SO WHAT?

Officially The Campbell Press gets a new editor and publisher today.

That, of course, is no earth-shaking event (to no one but the new editor and publisher). We know that many of the readers of this editorial will greet this announcement of the change in publishers by the traditional American expression of: "So what?"

As a matter of fact, we think that "so what" covers the situation very nicely.

You have a right to know what to expect from your new editor and publisher.

No attempt will be made in this editorial to set up a "platform of policy." That would be silly in the face of the fact that we have barely taken up residence in this community.

We feel we do know what makes a newspaper tick and we are confident that we can do a creditable job for Campbell. We like what we have seen of the city and its people and we will make a sincere attempt to get acquainted with as many of you as possible.

There will be times in the future perhaps when some of you will wish we hadn't settled here, but a newspaper cannot please everyone. Neither can it carry water on both shoulders, so it is conceivable when someone is pleased with the paper others will be just as displeased.

But we will continue to try to do our job as we think it should be done.

We hope to become a part of the community life personally and we want the paper to play an important role also in Campbell's development.

We maintain that the community newspaper must be the "sounding board" for its community. There is no other medium that gives a hoot about the major and minor problems that confront a small city every day. The "big story" of a small community generally rates but small play in the metropolitan press.

We are convinced that a newspaper is a success when its readers speak of it as "our newspaper" and not merely as "that paper".

That's the "so what" then.

We want you to call The Press "your paper," even when you are mad at it.

That is our only "platform" at the moment.

—George Vierhus

A DECADE IN CAMPBELL

Campbell is in the center of a great development that seems to be continually going on in the Santa Clara Valley, and for the next ten years there is bound to be a change in the pattern as we now know the city. New subdivisions will bring hundreds of new families here, the route 5 freeway with the interchange at Hamilton avenue, the widening of Hamilton avenue to 120 feet, Winchester Road to 90 feet, San Jose-Los Gatos Road to 120 feet, San Tomas Boulevard flanking both sides of the creek after taking off from Camden Avenue and veering off toward Bayshore Highway, two more high schools and half dozen more elementary schools, a city hall, fire station and corporation yard, all these are very probable marks of distinction on the map that will be issued in 1965.

We have seen the plans for these and we know full well that with careful administration each and all will be realized within the next decade. The Campbell Press will progress right with these developments but not too much in advance of them.

With this issue a new publisher is at the helm, a man who has the youth, vigor, training and enthusiasm to move with the developments. He will become a part of the community life just as it has been the pleasure of this writer in the last two and a half years. His has been a record of achievement and good public relations which he will have the opportunity to inculcate into this community to a mutual advantage.

LEARNING BY EXPOSURE

It used to be that city councilmen in the many small cities in California just merely had to go through the motions of governing a city.

But times have changed.

With the "growing pains" that have hit the California cities in the last decade, councilmen now find themselves faced with problems that had not been dreamed of a number of years ago.

New shopping centers, new storm drains, new streets and zoning are just some of the items that confront city fathers week after week.

This was brought to our attention very forcibly the other night when we attended the Campbell City Council meeting as an unofficial observer.

We discovered that the present day councilman has to learn something about engineering or he will be lost in the shuffle.

Campbell's councilmen may not be classed as engineers but they certainly are learning the trade by exposure.

At least that was our "unofficial observation."

The Campbell Gambol

EVERYONE at one time or another has some incident to face which is disconcerting at the time and amusing later on, like the one which Dr. and Mrs. Corwin Olds of the Campbell Congregational Church experienced recently . . . Seems that when Mrs. Olds made a trip by plane to the Hawaiian Islands recently she then decided to return by troop ship so was listed as being the mother of First Lieutenant James Olds of the U. S. Marine Corps . . . later while aboard ship it was found out that she was also the wife of Brigadier-General Corwin Olds, (Retired) so was accorded the preferred treatment of the highest rank aboard the ship . . . so-o-o, after a very enjoyable cruise she learned she was to be privileged as the first to disembark and General Olds was to meet her at the dock . . . in the meantime, General Olds had trouble starting their late model automobile which had been prepared for the reception, and he found it necessary to use instead their second car which is a somewhat forlorn 1941 model, the payoff being its arrival in the specially cleared dock area for the General's car at the foot of the gangplank just as Mrs. Olds was coming off the ship, much to the dismay of all concerned.

SUDDENLY It is Old Settler Day time, and there is a stir as to how to go about it to keep the continuity for another year which will be the 64th, some wanting it held on February 22 like it was for many years in the past and others wanting it held later when the weather is warmer and away from the risk of rain, but everyone wanting that it be held again . . . some old settlers now living elsewhere returned on February 22nd expecting to see a parade and learned it was on some future date so didn't come back.

GETTING WEARY Of seeing the sign over the ticket booth at the theatre, to watch for opening date, and also the way the Los Gatos placards the front with their features which they want us to come over and see . . . first theatre in Campbell, our spy tells us started in the Odd Fellows building by a party known as Red Merrill and it then moved to where the bank is now located and eventually to its present location, a brick structure, the bank, which was started about sixty years ago was headed by a Col. Cooper with John Duncan, Sr. as the one man operating staff, it then being in the building now used by Guy Farley on northeast corner Campbell and Central avenues, moving later to the building occupied now by Jeffers' Mens Shop across the street, then to where the theatre is now and finally next door to its present location.

SIGHTEMS . . . Almond tree in full bloom already on Campbell avenue back of Barnardi's Garage, with oranges hanging heavily on many trees about town and none being disturbed, poppy pods forming, violets in bloom, narcissus swaying in the nippy morning air, like cold fried eggs in the wind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Campbell Press

I read, with pleasure, the letter from Mrs. Morgan anent Old Settlers Day, Feb. 22. Were our old time honored celebration set for some day in May or September, would it still be the oldest day of its kind in the State? Or would it be just another day for parades, riding etc. like unto the rodeos held every year over the state?

Let us cling to our same old date, and keep it fittingly as friends and neighbors.

On that date, loved ones afar feel the call of Home.

CLARA BEEBE BALDWIN
a resident for fortyfive years.
96 E. Rincon Ave.

Jan. 16, 1956

Editor Campbell Press,

I wish to put in my two cents worth as agreeing heartily with the comment in the January 12 PRESS concerning "Old Settler's Day". However, I don't think the spirit of the original celebration depends on the date. Today's neighbors are settled in the Campbell area because our schools are among the best in the nation and, in general, the area offers unequalled advantages for bringing up children.

I'd like to see "Old Settler's Day" set up as a tribute from the children of the area to the old settlers, and February is an awfully uncertain month for the Brownie an dthe Bluebirds to plan to spend the day outdoors.

Can't we take a vote of those interested? Mail a postcard saying "February" or "May" and sign it with your name. Mrs. Morgan will you help me count the cards? Mr. Editor, will you umpire the count?

Very truly yours,
ISABELLE COLLINS PECHIN

SHERMAN OAKS SCHOOL
CAMPBELL UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT
HIGGINS & ROOT, A.I.A. ARCHITECTS

Here is a sketch of the new Sherman Oaks School on Fruitdale Avenue, 11th school to become a part of the Campbell Union Elementary School District. A 13 acre site, extending to Porter Avenue, the school is to be built of concrete block with an inner courtyard to serve initial units and with playgrounds accessible to each cluster of rooms. At far left is the administration unit. The site is now in orchard and some of the trees will remain to beautify the grounds. Initial plans call for eight classrooms, two kindergartens, a multi-purpose room and administration unit.

Lights Of Home

And tempting paths lead everywhere.
So men travel to and fro,
Backward and forward, on they go.
Until at last they cease to roam,
Once more, they hear the call of Home.

They travel North, they travel South,
The wine of adventure is lees in the mouth.
Weary of pleasures the world can give,
They long to go back and really live.
Though they be on land or over the foam,
There shines in the heart, the lights of Home.

Home, the loadstone shines ever bright,
Calling all men, by its power of might.
They answer that call with courage rare,
Back where some one will know and care.
Home, where familiar paths they trod,
Home to Mother—and to God.

Clara Beebe Baldwin.

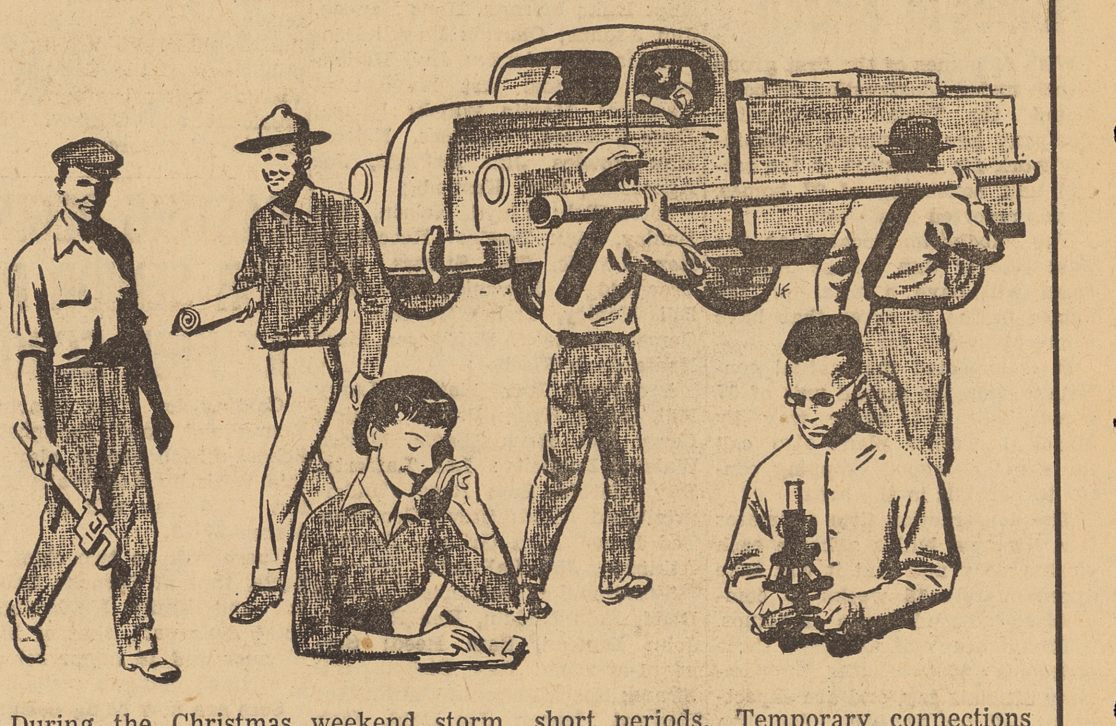
WHAT IT TAKES To Supply Your Home With Water Every Day



During the Christmas weekend storm and floods, San Jose Water Works field and engineering employees were on call 24 hours a day to insure safe, dependable water service for this area.

Their conscientious devotion to duty and willingness to give up their own holiday celebrations made possible an outstanding record under near-disaster conditions.

Constant patrol, day and night, over our 100 square mile service area kept water in the San Jose Water Works system free from all contamination. Frequent checks by the Company's laboratory staff gave us an up-to-the-minute "picture" of the water in your faucet at all times.

Out of about 65,000 customers, only a handful suffered any interruption of service, and these for comparatively short periods. Temporary connections were quickly installed where flood conditions destroyed mains.

Our own short wave radio communication system proved of inestimable value in keeping close contact with our many service crews during the time of the emergency.

The flood once again proved the value of the dual supply system of San Jose Water Works, which allows any part of our service area to be supplied from either surface or ground sources.

The storm muddied the mountain water so it could not be used and at the same time severely damaged the company's mountain facilities. During this period the San Jose Water Works served its customers with pure, potable water from its well sources.

San Jose Water Works customers will continue to receive water from the well supply until mountain sources produce water which meets the company's high standards of purity.

The race to see which class would win was the closest in Campbell High's history, with the Seniors winning as usual but only by a few tenths of percentage. The Freshmen came in second with the Sophomores third and the Juniors fourth.

As a result of the elections the new spring council members are Jim Corbus, Hector Cordova, and Micky Filing. Jim was on the "B" basketball team last year, while Hector was Sophomore Class President and this year is Vice President of the C. S. F. Micky was on "B" track last year and is on "B" basketball this year.

Heading the council will be Ethel Dorman new Student Body President. Ethel has been Student Body Secretary this past term and was Social Affairs Commissioner last year.

The new council had its first meeting Monday in Room 84. A few of the things this council will oversee will be the Senior Play, Junior Magazine Sale, Student Boday Paper Drive, and preparations for Graduation. During this meeting the council also chose the new Student Manager.

Patricia Taylor, Richard Coates Wed in Quito Church Ceremony

Attired in a white satin gown with a train and overskirt of lace-trimmed net and fingertip veil falling from a coronet of white satin and seed pearls, Miss Patricia Taylor descended the spiral staircase at Montalvo to the chapel, on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage to Richard Coates. The nuptial ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald Jolly, pastor of Quito Park Presbyterian Church, at 2 p.m., January 7.

Miss Carol Jean Kuhnle of San Francisco, lifelong friend of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a yellow satin ballerina-length gown and carried a French bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Jacqueline Taylor, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Jack Horton (nee Nancy Daniels), bridesmaids, wore identical blue taffeta floor length gowns, with full skirts, sweetheart necklines bordered with rhinestones and three-quarter length sleeves, with small heart-shaped, net trimmed hats. They carried French bouquets of yellow carnations. Little Curtis Smith, dressed in a white suit, was ringbearer.

John Coates of San Francisco, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Baxter Brown and Don DeMello, both of San Francisco, friends of the groom. Male attendants of the groom all wore white suits.

Mrs. David Sanders of Campbell, at the piano, provided nuptial music and accompanied the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ruth Taylor in vocal selections of "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Following the ceremony, a reception for more than 75 friends and relatives of the couple was held in the dining hall at Montalvo, which was decorated with white carnations and stock. The large, three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom, with the bride dressed in a full-skirted wedding gown.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Monterey. For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a beige cashmere skirt, with a matching sweater set. She wore the orchid from her corsage. Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Daly City.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor of 15065 Stratford Drive, Cambrian Park, is a Campbell High School graduate, where she participated in many school activities. She majored in business and music and produced and directed a number of variety shows with Kenneth Wallace, of the school faculty. Pat was responsible for starting the girls chorus lineup, which is still being carried out at the school.

She was a member of Felia D and Tri-Y, the Drama Club and played the trumpet in the school orchestra during her four years. Campbell residents will remember Pat as being chosen the first Miss Campbell, when she was queen of the Old Settlers Day Parade in 1953. After graduation she was active in a girls' quartet that sang over TV and for many Bay Area benefit shows. Pat attended San Jose State College, majoring in business. She was employed as a secretary for a Cambrian Park contractor, before going to San Francisco, where she has been employed as a secretary for a mortgage firm.

The groom, son of Mrs. Helen Coates of San Francisco, and Clifford Coates of Hillsboro, graduated from Lincoln High School in San Francisco and San Mateo Junior College. He is employed by his father who owns a flooring supply company in San Francisco. Dick served with the U. S. Army during World War II when he was stationed in Germany.

LOCAL MATMEN SWEEP MATCH

The Campbell High wrestling squad massacred the Santa Clara Panthers Friday, January 13. The Bucs rolled up the fabulous sum of 54 points. The Panthers on the other hand were unable to collect even a single point in matches staged at the home high school.

The meet was one of the most one-sided encounters ever viewed as the maximum in point for a team to garner is 60. Seven of the locals pinned their opponents. These boys are George Nakamoto, Fred Stroppa, Jim Omura, Lee Yamada, Paul Gaxiola, Glen Cureton, and Dallas Sutton. Many of these boys, incidentally will be around for next year.

Campbell Bucs Play Los Gatos Here Tomorrow

Campbell High School's inexperienced cagers take on Los Gatos High tomorrow night in the local gym. The Bucs are smarting from their 49-27 defeat at the hands of Santa Clara last Friday in the league opener.

The Los Gatos Wildcats also dropped their opener when Fremont took them to camp but they are still rated stronger than last year.

Vernon Lunt, stellar guard on the local varsity, is the only veteran on this year's squad. Although consistently strong on defense, Lunt managed to score 12 points for high point honors in the Santa Clara game.

CAMPBELL LOSES LEAGUE OPENER TO SANTA CLARA

By Steve Dunn

The strong Santa Clara Panthers, defending champions of the SCVAL basketball crown, opened league play for the present school year by making quick work of the Campbell High Buc varsity and "thirty" squads Friday, January 13. The two contests were fought on the Panthers' floor.

Fatefull Friday the 13th lived up to its tradition for the Bucs, anyway, as they were submerged by the count of 49-27. The biggest thorn in Campbell's side was Bob Lister, sophomore center of the Panthers. This boy received the phenomenal total of 19 free throws. Of this number he connected for 11 points, which, added to two field goals he sunk in during the evening, gave him a grand total of 15 points, good for high point honors.

The lone Buc to laugh in superstition's face was Vernon Lunt. Lunt, first string left guard, poured in 12 points to lead the Campbell squad.

The lighweights were more successful, as the hometown "thirties" held off the junior Panthers, 30-34, in what proved to be a more exciting and interesting game. Don Kitajima, Buc center who has played well consistently throughout the year, turned in a great game in this one. He dropped in a total of seven field goals to steal high point honors for the contest with 14.

Storm Sets Back Freeway Opening At Los Gatos

That it will not be until late in July that the heavy traffic to Santa Cruz can be taken care of by the Route 5 freeway arm at Los Gatos, was indicated this week by George Warren, construction superintendent for the L. C. Smith Company who said the heavy rains have damaged spillway cement and road bed foundation. It was to have been completed in April. Warren said the damage will come to about $75,000, detour roads are undercut. More than 60 per cent of the construction has been completed, so the delay will be in making repairs so that paving can start. When the freeway is completed, traffic would be diverted from North Santa Cruz avenue by the extension of Saratoga avenue onto the freeway.

Local Auxiliary Holds Card Party Next Wednesday

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 596, at their meeting in the I. O. O. F. Hall on January 11, completed plans for their public card party to be held next Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Mrs. Leslie Fairchild was appointed chairman of the affair, with Mrs. Harold Strickland, prize chairman, and Mrs. Harold Olson in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. Jonnie McFall, chairman, introduced Mrs. Eleanore Wegner, 13th district president, who made an official visit to the unit and spoke to the group on their program. Mrs. Mabel Cabbage of the Palo Alto unit, district "poppy" chairman, gave an account of the making of poppies in the Palo Alto veterans hospital, stating that money obtained from poppy sales is always turned over to the veterans who made the poppies and is also used for rehabilitation of veterans' families. The poppy sale this year will be held the latter part of May.

Following the program, a buffet supper was served to members and their guests.

CHURCH COUNCIL OF AREA HOLDS DINNER MEETING

Representatives of 38 churches from twelve Protestant denominations in six communities attended the annual dinner session of the San Jose Area Council of Churches in San Jose last Sunday, when Rev. Gilbert B. Christian, formerly of Tacoma, Washington, challenged the council to increase their program for cooperative service to both old and new churches in the suburban areas with his message on "Together — We Can Do It"

He also called upon the council to strengthen evangelistic efforts to reach the 70 percent of the population reportedly not connected with any church at present.

Rev. Constant Johnson, outgoing president, gave report of progress from committee chairmen, emphasizing extended service to the county area.

Following new officers were elected: Rev. Gerald Ford, pastor of the First Christian Church of San Jose, president; Paul Watson and Mrs. H. C. Olsen, vice presidents; Miss Elizabeth Blaisdell, recording secretary; Alfred Robins, treasurer. Committee chairmen are as follows: R. L. Rearick, finance; Rev. Phil Barrett, evangelism; Rev. Dick Ingraham, juvenile hall; Rev. Eugene Duncan, leadership training; Mrs. James Goole, migrant work; Rev. C. W. Washington, race relations; Dr. J. Wesley Farr, social action; Rev. Wayne M. Kessel, weekday school; and Rev. Constant Johnson, public relations. Rev. Henry Croes, Dr. C. B. Sylvester, Rev. Leonard Hildebrandt, John D. Crummy and Rev. Francis Hayashi, were named members-at-large of the executive committee.

Methodists Plan To Show Movies Every Month

The film "Martin Luther", to be shown in the Fellowship Hall of the new First Methodist Church on Winchester Road at 7 p.m. Sunday, will be the first in a series of monthly motion picture showings at the church. The general public is invited and no admission will be charged.

"Martin Luther"is the story of the 16th century, monk who set out to find God's truth and became the father of the Reformation. The picture was filmed in Germany against the authentic background of the genuine castles, monasteries, market squares and churches involved. Actors were chosen not only for their talent, but also because they looked like the characters they portrayed. The picture is reported to be authentic throughout, even to the smaller articles used, the documents, the printing press, crowns and even the rings.

Music heard in the film was recorded by the Munich Philharmonic Orchestra and Choir.

European Scene

EDITOR'S NOTE: Virginia Grattan, former San Jose State College and Campbell High School student has been in Europe since August. This is another of a series of articles written by her.

The delay while being cleared for my job gave me time for a rapid trip to Italy with my girl friend, Johanna. Ths was in October, the best possible time to visit Italy, after the tourist season and before winter.

October 10, after two days of frantic planning, Johanna and I left Frankfurt by train for Munich, Innsbruck and Venice. We were awakened many times during the night by customs officials, as we passed through borders through Germany, Austria and Italy. At about five a. m., I awoke again to see the great dolmites shrouded in mist, and the lights of the small hill towns blinking in the semi-darkness. Morning came and we left the mountains and raced across the flat lands towards Venice.

From Mestre on the mainland, there is a rail bridge to the "Island City". It is a dramatic introduction to the Venician way of life—of canals and water ways. We took the water taxi to our destination and by noon we were settled in a hotel near St. Mark's square. The clerk gave us some trouble over the room price. But we hemmed and hawed till the price dropped three times.

We rested that afternoon and went to the Rialto bridge in the evening. The narrow street leading to the bridge is lined with dozens of fashionable shops. On the Rialto bridge are more elegant shops—yardage, jewelry, perfumes and a wide variety of wares. Across the bridge we were attracted by the many outdoor markets selling everything from ties to soap, sausages and cheese. We got raisin rools at a bakery and some grapes and tomatoes for breakfast the next morning, then wandered back through the labyrinth of narrow streets to our hotel.

In the morning after our improvised breakfast and a cup of cafe latte (black coffee with hot milk; half and half) we were off to see Venice. We had scanned through a stack of pamphlets from the Italian Tourist office and from these planned our itinerary—the Ducal Palace, Bridge of Sighs, Chiesa della Salute, Gallerie Accademia—for a look at Venician art. On our way to the Galleria we were invited into a glass factory, where we watched artisans forming molten glass into a fixture for a chandelier. Then to the Accademia to see the Tintoretto's, Gellini's and Veronese's and other painters of the Venician school. Their art is distinctive in its colors—brilliant as the sun and sea of Venice.

In the afternoon, while Johanna went to the Ca d'Oro Museum, I took the elevator to the top of the Campanile. From this 300 foot perch one has a magnificent view of Venice, and even of Lido and some of the other outlying islands. It was brilliantly clear and sunny. Looking out over the city I tried to imagine how it must have been when Venice was in her glory and sailing ships from Cairo to Cathey came bringing merchandise from the East. It was hard to imagine. I'd heard that Lord Byron lived and wrote here centuries later. The story goes that he challenged some friends to a swimming race from Lido to St. Mark's—no small task. And he won. I also thought of Hemmingway's Venice in his "Across the River and Into the Trees." There are many ways to think of Venice—so much history everywhere.

Leaving St. Mark's, I took the water taxi down the Grand Canal to San Toma and walked over to the Chiesa dei Frari (church of the brothers). In this beautiful church hangs "The Assumption" by Titian. To see in the darkness this magnificent work lighted over the altar is unforgettable. It was five p. m. and this church where many of Venice's great men are buried was nearly deserted.

I met Johanna for dinner. Later we walked over to see St. Mark's square by night. The square is interesting because it's as thickly populated with cafe patrons at night as it is with pigeons in the day. The square is so large it can easily hold six or eight cafe's each with its own orchestra. Friends gathering here for coffee and conversation in the evening can choose the kind of music they prefer from jazz to gypsie violins.

The next morning because of the time element, we had to leave, but we had seen most of the things we wanted to see.. As we took the boat down the Grand Canal to the station, we looked back and another beautiful sunny day was breaking in Venice.

We got an early train and were in Florence by two. The information office at the station recommended a pensione near the Ponti Vecchio, which proved ideal and there was no arguing about the price.

After lunch we begon our pursuit of Michaelangelo's sculpture. We saw his monument for Lorenzo and Guiliano de Medici with the figures—dawn, twilight, night and day—at the de Medici chapel. We found a copy of his "David" in the Palazo Vecchio and his "Pieta" in the cathedral the next day. But we didn't learn until later that the bulk of his work is in the Academy of Fine Arts near the University—a place not usually listed in the guide books. After visiting the Duomo with Ghiberti's beautiful bronze doors, and doing some window shopping on the Ponti Vec chio, we had dinner. Then we found a book store with marvelous Art books, and a bakery that produced a delicious fruit bread—pano con fruita—which I devoured despite Johanna's pleas that I would be sick eating warm bread right out of the oven. Finally we dragged home, weary but happy, saying that we wished we could live in Florence some time and see more of this beautiful city.

In the morning we got an early start to see as much as possible before our train left at noon. We went to Saint Croce where Michelangelo, Dante, Rossini, Gallaleo, and numerous other "greats" are buried; then, back to the Duomo to see Michelangelo's "Piesta" (the descent from the cross) which is overwhelming. The mosaic ceiling of the basalica is also an amazing sight.
